

The New Jersey School Boards
Association Needs YOU!

Do you want to help shape NJSBA's legislative agenda and advocacy action plan? If so, there are several openings on NJSBA's Legislative Committee for board members who wish to volunteer their time to communicate with their state and federal lawmakers about critical issues to New Jersey's school districts.

The committee meets approximately three times a year and is responsible for promoting grassroots advocacy networks on the local, county and state levels. Committee members are an important part of these networks and are often called upon to testify at hearings before the State Legislature and the State Board of Education.

NJSBA needs your support more than ever as we face serious challenges concerning funding and governance. It will be critical for local school boards to continue speaking out on these important issues.
